We’ve produced this guide to help you fill in the CRS Entity self-certification form. We’ve based it on the information that’s currently available.

It’s a guide, not a substitute for taking a detailed look at the Common Reporting Standard (CRS) and it doesn’t constitute tax advice. If there’s anything you’re not sure about, please get in touch with a tax professional.
Introduction

What is the Common Reporting Standard?

The Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) has developed the Common Reporting Standard (CRS) to stop individuals and Entities evading tax by hiding assets and income in foreign financial accounts.

More than 90 countries have committed to rolling out the CRS. These countries, known as “Participating Jurisdictions”, require resident financial institutions like us to collect information from our account holders to identify the financial accounts held by foreign tax residents and report them to the tax authorities.

The tax authorities of the Participating Jurisdictions then exchange this information to determine whether these account holders are declaring their income and paying the right amount of tax in their country of tax residence.

What does it mean for you?

Under the CRS, we have to establish where an Entity is resident for tax purposes. As a result, we need you to fill in the ‘Entity tax residency self-certification form’. In some cases (we’ve indicated where in this guide), we’ll also need the Controlling Persons of your Entity to fill in a ‘Controlling Person tax residency self-certification form’.

Please note that for the purpose of this guide, partnerships, trusts and foundations are all Entities.

By filling in this form, you’ll be certifying where your Entity is resident for tax purposes and how you would classify it under the CRS. That means, if we need to, we can report the necessary information to the tax authorities.

In some cases, we might need you to give us other supporting documents so we can confirm the information on your self-certification form. We’ll be in touch if that’s the case.

What’s the purpose of this guide?

The rules for determining how to classify your Entity under the CRS can be complicated. The aim of this guide is to help you determine which classification applies to your Entity. We’ve set out information on the different Entity types in Sections 2-5. Section 6 gives you some information about which Entity types qualify as “Reportable Persons” under the CRS.

The CRS requires us to get this ‘self-certification’ from you. We can help you by providing details of the various definitions and classifications but it’s important to remember we can’t give you tax advice.

For definitions of the terms we’ve used throughout this guide, please see the Glossary on page 13.

What if you’re still not sure how you should be filling in the form or what your Entity’s classification is?

If, after reading this guide, you’re still unclear about how to classify your Entity under the CRS, and/or where it’s resident for tax purposes, you should get relevant tax advice. Your Relationship Manager is here to help if you have any questions but won’t be able to provide technical or tax advice.

Are the Entity classifications under the CRS the same as the ones under FATCA?

You might already have classified your Entity under the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (FATCA). However, your Entity’s classification for CRS purposes may not be the same as the one for FATCA.

The FATCA and CRS Entity classifications are similar, but there are important differences. While some classifications – such as Financial Institution, Active NFFE/NFE and Passive NFFE/NFE exist under both regimes, others don’t. For example, an Owner Documented Foreign Financial Institution is a classification for FATCA but not for the CRS.

Where a classification exists under both regimes, there might be differences in the way it’s defined. For example, an Investment Entity is a type of Financial Institution under both FATCA and the CRS, but the definition isn’t the same.

So please make sure you read the Entity definitions in this guide. And don’t assume that because your Entity is a certain classification under FATCA, it will be the same under the CRS.
1. An overview of the form

You might find this chart helpful in understanding the form.

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Taxpayer Identification Number (“TIN”)

- The term “TIN” means Taxpayer Identification Number (or, where there’s no TIN, its functional equivalent). A TIN is a unique combination of letters or numbers that a jurisdiction assigns to an individual or Entity to identify them for tax purposes. Some jurisdictions don’t issue a TIN, but they often use another number instead (a “functional equivalent”).

- Examples of TIN (for an Entity) include “Company Unique Taxpayer Reference (UTR)” in the UK, the “UID-number” in Switzerland and the “Employer Identification Number” (EIN) in the United States.

- Examples of TIN (for an individual) include a social security/insurance number, citizen/personal identification/service code number and resident registration number.

The laws of the relevant jurisdiction determine an Entity’s ‘Country of tax residence’. Where that is might depend on the country of incorporation, organisation, management and control or other factors. If you’re not sure which country your Entity is resident in for tax purposes, please speak to your tax advisor. You can find general guidance on the OECD website: http://www.oecd.org/tax/automatic-exchange/crs-implementation-and-assistance/tax-residency/#d.en.347760

2. Your guide to filling in Part 2 of the form: Entity type

In this section of the form, you need to tell us your Entity’s classification\(^1\) for CRS purposes and its country(ies) of tax residency(ies). The Entity classifications in the form and this guide apply to all types of Entity including trusts, partnerships and foundations.

Please fill in Part 2 (1), choosing (a)-(g) as appropriate:

<th>Part 2 (1)(a-b): Financial Institutions:</th>

<tr>

</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

If your Entity isn’t a Financial Institution, it will either be an Active Non-Financial Entity (Active NFE) or a Passive Non-Financial Entity (Passive NFE).

Section 3 of this document provides more guidance on which Entities may be FIs.

Section 5 of this document gives you more guidance on which Entities are Active NFES and which are Passive NFES:

- Section 5.1 – Active NFES.
- Section 5.2 – Passive NFES. (If your Entity is an NFE but not an Active NFE, it will automatically be a Passive NFE. If your Entity is a Managed Investment Entity that’s resident in a non-Participating Jurisdiction, it will also count as a Passive NFE.)

If you’ve told us in Part 2 (1)(a)(i) that your Entity is ‘An Investment Entity located in a Non-Participating Jurisdiction and managed by another Financial Institution’ – or that it’s a Passive NFE in Part 2 (1)(g) – you will need to fill in Part 2 (2):

Part 2 (2) (a-b): Only relevant for Passive NFES, including Managed Investment Entities that are resident in a non-Participating Jurisdiction.

- You will need to tell us who the Entity’s Controlling Person(s) are. And each of those Controlling Person(s) will need to provide us with a ‘Controlling Person tax residency self-certification form’* confirming where they are resident for tax purposes.

* The Controlling Person form may vary from country to country. If you require a form(s) please contact your Relationship Manager.

Section 5.2 of this document provides more guidance on which Entities are Passive NFES and Controlling Persons.

The definition of ‘Managed Investment Entities resident in a Non-Participating Jurisdiction’ may vary across jurisdictions. Please see the Glossary and local legislation for the definition that’s relevant for you.

---

\(^1\) The exact definition of each classification is a matter of local law, so may vary from country to country.
3. Is your Entity a Financial Institution (FI)?

There are four types of FI, which we’ve set out in Sections 3.1, 3.2, 3.3 and 3.4. (See the Glossary for full definitions.) Some FIs will have reporting obligations of their own.

Please read ALL the descriptions and examples below. If your Entity falls into ANY of these categories, please tick the relevant type of “Financial Institution” in Part 2 (1) (a) or (b).

If your Entity doesn’t fall under any of these types of FI, that means it’s a Non-Financial Entity (NFE).

The information we’ve provided below is only meant as a guide. We recommend you refer to the local laws and regulations in your relevant jurisdiction, and/or get expert advice, to confirm that your Entity is an FI.

3.1. How do you know if your Entity is an Investment Entity?

An Entity will be an Investment Entity if it meets either of the definitions we’ve set out below. You’ll need to consider them both to work out whether yours is an Investment Entity (see ‘1’, below) or a Managed Investment Entity (see ‘2’, below).

1. Investment Entity:
As a business, does your Entity carry out any of these activities for or on behalf of a customer?

- Trading in money market instruments;
- Managing portfolios (individual and collective);
- Otherwise investing, administering or managing financial assets or money on behalf of other persons.

Does this make up a significant portion of the Entity’s business (more than 50%)?

If you answered YES to 1, your Entity is likely to be an Investment Entity. But you still need to consider if it’s a Managed Investment Entity.

2. A Managed Investment Entity:
Does more than 50% of your Entity’s income mainly come from investing, reinvesting or trading in financial assets?

Is the Entity ‘managed by’ (see page 7) another Entity that’s a Depository Institution, a Custodial Institution, a Specified Insurance Company, or the first type of Investment Entity (as we defined in 1 of this Section)?

If you answered YES to 2, your Entity is likely to be a Managed Investment Entity.

Under the CRS, Managed Investment Entities that are resident in a non-Participating Jurisdiction count as Passive NFEs. If this applies to your Entity, you will need to tick Part 2 (1) (a) (i) on the self-certification form. And each of your Entity’s Controlling Persons (see Section 5.2) will need to provide a ‘Controlling Person tax residency self-certification form’.

Any other Investment Entities should tick Part 2 (1) (a) (ii) ‘Other Investment Entity’.

What’s a non-Participating Jurisdiction?
A Participating Jurisdiction is a jurisdiction that’s agreed to automatically exchange the information set out in the CRS. Countries that haven’t agreed to do so are called non-Participating Jurisdictions.
When would a Financial Institution ‘manage’ an Entity?

If an Entity that’s a Financial Institution has discretionary authority to manage all or some of the assets of another Entity, then that Entity is ‘managed’ by a Financial Institution. A mix of Entities and individuals may manage an Entity; if any one of them is a Financial Institution, then the Entity will be ‘managed’.

When would a Financial Institution ‘manage’ a trust?

Typically, a trust is regarded as being ‘managed by’ a Financial Institution (so counts as a Managed Investment Entity) if:

- one or more of the trustees is a Financial Institution, or
- the trustees have appointed a Financial Institution to manage the financial assets of the trust (‘A’ below) and/or manage the trust (‘B’ below).

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>A. Manage the financial assets of the trust?</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A Financial Institution manages the financial assets of a trust if it can use its discretion to manage the trust's investments, or its strategy for how it invests its assets.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>This will usually be the case if the trust has appointed a discretionary fund manager to manage its portfolio (or part of it).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>It won't be the case if the trustees of a trust invest in retail investments.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>B. Manage the trust?</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A Financial Institution will manage the trust if the trustees have appointed it to carry out the day-to-day functions of the trust, beyond investing its assets.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
3.2 How do you know if your Entity is a Custodial Institution?

Things to consider
- Does your Entity hold financial assets on behalf of others? Financial assets include securities (such as corporation stocks, notes, bonds, and debentures), partnership interests, commodities, swaps and insurance or annuity contracts.
- Does this make up a substantial part of its business? In other words, over the last three accounting periods, (or since your Entity came into existence, if that's shorter), has 20% or more of its gross income come from holding assets like these, and from related financial services?

Examples
- Custodian banks;
- Brokers;
- Central securities depositories;
- Trust companies;
- Clearing organisations and nominees;
- Employment benefit trusts holding shares for an employee after they have been granted.

If you answer YES to both of the above, your Entity is likely to be a Custodial Institution.

3.3. How do you know if your Entity is a Depository Institution?

Things to consider
- Does your Entity accept deposits or other similar investments in the ordinary course of a banking or similar business?

If you answer YES to the above, your Entity is likely to be a Depository Institution.

Examples
- Savings or commercial banks;
- Credit unions;
- Savings and loan associations;
- Industrial and provident societies;
- Building societies.

3.4. How do you know if your Entity is a Specified Insurance Company?

Things to consider
- Is your Entity an insurance company (see below) or a holding company of an insurance company?
- In this instance, an insurance company is an Entity that meets any of these criteria:
  - It’s regulated as an insurance business in the country where it does business;
  - In the last calendar year, the gross income it earned from insurance, reinsurance, and annuity contracts made up more than 50% of its total gross income for that year; or
  - At any time during the last calendar year, the combined value of the Entity’s assets associated with insurance, reinsurance and annuity contracts made up more than 50% of its total assets for that year.
- Does the Entity issue, or have to make payments, with respect to cash value insurance or annuity contracts?

If you answer YES to all of the above, your Entity is likely to be a Specified Insurance Company.

Examples
- Most life insurance companies.
  An insurance company that only provides these products and services generally wouldn’t be a FI:
  - General insurance;
  - Term life insurance;
  - Reinsurance companies that only provide indemnity reinsurance contracts;
  - Insurance brokers.
4. Is your Entity another type of Financial Institution or another type of Investment Entity?

If your Entity falls under one of the FI classifications below (because of the kind of activities it undertakes), you should fill in the form on that basis. Along with the guidance we’ve given you here, you should also look at the Agreements and/or any local guidance that’s available in the jurisdiction where your Entity is opening (or holds) an account.

Other types of Financial Institution

1. Governmental Entity
   A government or political subdivision, or any wholly owned agency/instrumentality of it.

2. International Organisation
   International/supranational organisations or any wholly owned agency/instrumentality of them.

3. Central Bank
   An institution that, by law or government sanction, is the main authority (other than the government of that jurisdiction) for issuing currency.

4. Pension Fund of a Governmental Entity, International Organisation or Central Bank
   A fund that a Governmental Entity, International Organisation or Central Bank has set up to provide retirement, disability or death benefits to beneficiaries.

5. Qualified Credit Card Issuer
   The Entity issues credit cards. It only accepts deposits when a customer makes a payment (limited to $50,000 or if not limited, refunded to the customer in 60 days) of more than the balance they owe.

6. Trustee-Documented Trust
   A trust, to the extent that the trustee is a Reporting Financial Institution and reports everything that needs reporting about the reportable accounts of the trust.

7. Exempt Collective Investment Vehicle
   An Investment Entity that’s regulated as a collective investment vehicle and all interests in the collective investment vehicle are held by or through one or more non Reportable Person(s).

8. Broad/Narrow Participation Retirement Fund
   A fund providing retirement, disability or death benefits to current or former employees. It’s either regulated or has fewer than 50 participants.

9. Low-risk Entity
   An Entity that’s unlikely to be used to evade tax and domestic law defines it as a Non-Reporting FI.

If you don’t think your Entity is an FI, then it’s likely to be a Non-Financial Entity (NFE). In that case, you will need to decide whether it’s an ‘Active NFE’ or a ‘Passive NFE’. Please see Section 5 for guidance.
5. Does your Entity fit any of the Non-Financial Entity (NFE) definitions?

Entities that don’t fit any of the FI definitions are Non-Financial Entities (NFES). If your Entity isn’t a FI, but you aren’t sure whether it’s an ‘Active NFE’ or a ‘Passive NFE’, the information here may help you to work it out.

If your NFE doesn’t fit any of the Active NFE definitions, it will be a Passive NFE. That means you will need to fill in extra forms about your Entity’s Controlling Persons (see Section 5.2).

To help you, the red reference numbers in the boxes below relate to the relevant part of the form.

5.1. How do you know if your Entity is an Active NFE?

<tr>
<td>NFE by reason of Income or Assets</td>

<tr>

<td>The Entity is an international organisation, or an Entity that’s wholly owned by an international organisation.</td>

</table>

If you don’t believe your Entity meets any of the above criteria (and it isn’t a FI), then it’s likely to be a Passive NFE. Please see Section 5.2 for what that means.

<tr>
<td>Part 2 (1)(g)</td>
<td>To comply with our obligations under the CRS, we also need to determine whether or not the Controlling Persons of a Passive NFE are Reportable Persons. We need to interpret the term “Controlling Persons” in a way that reflects the Financial Action Task Force Recommendations. You can find these at:</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Generally, the person who has control over an Entity is the one who has a controlling ownership interest. Typically, this means that they own a certain percentage, for example, 25% of the Entity.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Where no person has control of the Entity through ownership interests, the Controlling Person(s) of the Entity will be the person (or people) who has control of the Entity “through other means”.</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Who are the Controlling Persons for a trust?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>In the case of a trust, the Controlling Person means the settlor(s), the trustee(s), the protector(s) (if any), the beneficiary(ies) or class(es) of beneficiaries, or any other natural person(s) exercising ultimate effective control over the trust (including through a chain of control or ownership).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Under the CRS, the settlor(s), trustee(s), protector(s) (if any) and the beneficiary(ies) or class(es) of beneficiaries, must always be treated as Controlling Person(s) of a trust, regardless of whether or not any of them exercises control over the activities of the trust.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>However, different jurisdictions might treat discretionary beneficiaries in different ways. Some have issued guidance stating that for CRS purposes, a beneficiary who may receive a discretionary distribution from the trust is only a beneficiary of the trust if they actually receive one. If you think this may apply to your Entity, or you’re still unclear on who your Controlling Person may be, take a look at your local guidance and/or get professional tax advice.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
6. Reporting

6.1 Who is a Reportable Person?

Depending on your Entity’s classification, and where it’s resident for tax purposes, it may be a Reportable Person. That means details of the account will be reportable to the tax authority in the jurisdiction where you hold the account. That authority will then send your details to the tax authority where your Entity or Controlling Person(s) is/are tax resident.

This table sets out the types of Entity that are Reportable Accounts. It applies when the account you hold with us is a ‘Financial Account’ and your Entity is tax resident in a Participating Jurisdiction, other than the one where you hold the account.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>

<td>Financial Institutions aren’t reportable irrespective of where they’re resident for tax purposes.</td>

<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Managed Investment Entities sometimes count as Passive NFES. This means that the Controlling Person(s) along with the details of the Entity they control may be reportable if they’re tax resident in a Participating Jurisdiction.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

6.2 What information needs reporting?

If we need to report your Entity’s account, we’ll exchange the following information (subject to local law):

For Passive NFES (or Managed Investment Entities treated as Passive NFES) with one or more Controlling Persons that are Reportable Persons:

- the name, address, and TIN(s) of your Entity and;
- the name, address, TIN(s), date of birth and, in some instances, place of birth of each reportable Controlling Person.

For other reportable Entity Account Holders:

- The name, address and TIN(s);

For all:

- The balance or value of your account as of the end of the calendar year;
- Some transactional data for the calendar year, such as:
  - The total gross amount of interest, dividends and other income paid or credited to your account
  - The total gross proceeds from the sale or redemption of financial assets paid or credited to the account “Account Holder”

The “Account Holder” is the person that the Financial Institution maintaining the account has listed or identified as the holder. This is regardless of whether that person is a flow-through Entity.

For example, if a Financial Institution has listed a trust or an estate as the holder or owner of a Financial Account, the trust or estate is the Account Holder, rather than the trustee or the trust’s owners or beneficiaries. The same applies if a Financial Institution has listed a partnership as the holder or owner of a Financial Account: the partnership is the Account Holder, rather than the people in the partnership. If someone (other than a Financial Institution) holds a Financial Account on behalf of another person, the Financial Institution treats the other person as holding the account rather than the agent, custodian, nominee, signatory, investment advisor or intermediary.

“Active NFE”

An NFE is an Active NFE if it meets any of the criteria we’ve listed here. To sum up, those criteria refer to:

- Active NFES by reason of income and assets;
- Publicly traded NFES;
- Governmental Entities, International Organisations, Central Banks, or their wholly owned Entities;
- Holding NFES that are members of a nonfinancial group;
- Start-up NFES;
- NFES that are liquidating or emerging from bankruptcy;
- Treasury centres that are members of a nonfinancial group; or
- Non-profit NFES.

An Entity will be an Active NFE if it meets any of these criteria:

a. Less than 50% of the NFE’s gross income for the preceding calendar year (or other appropriate reporting period) is passive income. And less than 50% of the assets it held during the preceding calendar year (or other appropriate reporting period) are assets that produce passive income, or ones it holds in order to produce passive income;

b. The stock of the NFE is regularly traded on an established securities market, or is a Related Entity of an Entity the stock of which is regularly traded on an established securities market;

c. The NFE is (or is wholly owned by) a Governmental Entity, an International Organisation or a Central Bank;

d. Most of the NFE’s activities consist of holding (in whole or in part) the outstanding stock of, or providing financing and services to, one or more subsidiaries that engage in trades or businesses other than that of a Financial Institution. An Entity doesn’t qualify for this status if it functions (or holds itself out) as an investment fund, such as a private equity fund, venture capital fund, leveraged buyout fund, or any investment vehicle whose purpose is to buy or fund companies, and then hold interests in those companies as capital assets for investment purposes;

e. The NFE isn’t yet operating a business and hasn’t done so before (a ‘start-up NFE’). But it’s investing capital in assets with a view to running a business other than that of a Financial Institution. An NFE won’t qualify for this status more than 24 months from its start-up date;

f. The NFE hasn’t been a Financial Institution in the last five years, and is in the process of liquidating its assets. Or it’s reorganising with a view to carrying on or restarting operations in a business other than that of a Financial Institution;

g. The NFE mainly carries out financing and hedging transactions with, or for, Related Entities that aren’t Financial Institutions and doesn’t provide financing or hedging services to any Entity that isn’t a Related Entity, provided that the group of any such Related Entities is primarily engaged in a business other than that of a Financial Institution; or
h. The NFE meets all of these requirements (a “non-profit NFE”):
   i. It exists and operates in its jurisdiction of residence exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, artistic, cultural, athletic or educational purposes; or it exists and operates in that jurisdiction as a professional organisation, business league, chamber of commerce, labour organisation, agricultural or horticultural organisation, civic league or an organisation whose only purpose is to promote social welfare;
   ii. It’s exempt from income tax in its jurisdiction of residence;
   iii. It has no shareholders or members who have a proprietary or beneficial interest in its income or assets;
   iv. The applicable laws of the NFE’s jurisdiction of residence or the NFE’s formation documents don’t allow the NFE to distribute any income or assets to, or be applied for the benefit of, a private person or non-charitable Entity. The exceptions are when it relates to carrying out the NFE’s charitable activities, or when the NFE needs to pay reasonable compensation for services, or the fair market value of a property it’s bought; and
   v. The applicable laws of the NFE’s jurisdiction of residence or the NFE’s formation documents require that, if the NFE liquidates or dissolves, all of its assets go to a Governmental Entity or other non-profit organisation, or escheat to the government of the NFE’s jurisdiction of residence or any political subdivision.

Note: Some entities (such as U.S. Territory NFFEs) may qualify for Active NFFE status under FATCA but not Active NFE status under the CRS.

“Cash Value Insurance Contracts”

The term “Cash Value Insurance Contract” means an Insurance Contract (other than an indemnity reinsurance contract between two insurance companies) that has a Cash Value.

“Control”

Generally, the “natural” person (as opposed to organisation) who ultimately has a controlling ownership interest in the Entity has “control” over it. Typically, that means they own a certain percentage in the Entity, for example, 25%. Where no natural person (or people) has control of the Entity through ownership interests, the Controlling Person(s) will be the one(s) who exercise control through other means. Under the CRS, the Reportable Person in these cases is the senior managing official.

“Controlling Person(s)”

“Controlling Persons” are the person(s) who exercise control over an entity. Where that Entity is a Passive Non-Financial Entity (“Passive NFE”) then a Financial Institution needs to determine whether or not these Controlling Persons are Reportable Persons. This definition corresponds to the term “beneficial owner” which the Financial Action Task Force described in Recommendation 10 of its Recommendations (adopted in February 2012).

In the case of a trust, the Controlling Person(s) are the settlor(s), the trustee(s), the protector(s) (if any), the beneficiary(ies) or class(es) of beneficiaries, or any other person(s) who has ultimate effective control over the trust, including through a chain of control or ownership. Under the CRS, the settlor(s), the trustee(s), the protector(s) (if any), and the beneficiary(ies) or class(es) of beneficiaries are always the Controlling Persons of a trust, regardless of whether any of them has control over its activities.

Where the settlor(s) of a trust is an Entity then the CRS requires Financial Institutions to also identify the Controlling Persons of the settlor(s) and when required report them as Controlling Persons of the trust.

In the case of a legal arrangement other than a trust, “Controlling Person(s)” means persons in equivalent or similar positions.

“Custodial Institution”

The term “Custodial Institution” means any Entity that holds, as a substantial portion of its business, Financial Assets on behalf of others. It applies when 20% or more of an Entity’s gross income is attributable to the holding of Financial Assets and related financial services over a certain period. That period is (i) the three years ending 31 December (or the final day of a non-calendar year accounting period) before the year in which the Entity is determining its status; or (ii) the length of time for which the Entity has existed whichever is shorter.

“Depository Institution”

The term “Depository Institution” means any Entity that accepts deposits in the ordinary course of a banking or similar business.

“FATCA”

FATCA stands for the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act provisions. These were enacted into U.S. law on March 18, 2010, as part of the Hiring Incentives to Restore Employment (HIRE) Act. FATCA creates a new information reporting and withholding regime for payments made to certain non-U.S. financial institutions and other non-U.S. entities.

“Entity”

The term “Entity” means a legal person or a legal arrangement, such as a corporation, organisation, partnership, trust or foundation. This term covers any person other than an individual (i.e. a natural person).

“Financial Institution”

The term “Financial Institution” means a “Custodial Institution”, a “Depository Institution”, an “Investment Entity” or a “Specified Insurance Company”. Please see the relevant domestic guidance and the CRS for further classification definitions that apply to Financial Institutions.

“Investment Entity”

The term “Investment Entity” includes two types of Entities:

i. An Entity that mainly carries out, as a business, one or more of these activities or operations for (or on behalf of) a customer:
   - Trading in money market instruments (cheques, bills, certificates of deposit, derivatives, etc.); foreign exchange; exchange, interest rate and index instruments; transferable securities; or commodity futures trading;
   - Managing portfolios (both individual and collective); or
   - Otherwise investing, administering or managing Financial Assets or money on behalf of other persons.

These activities or operations don’t include giving non-binding investment advice to a customer.

ii. “The second type of “Investment Entity” (“Investment Entity managed by another Financial Institution”) is any Entity whose gross income is primarily attributable to investing, reinvesting, or trading in Financial Assets where the Entity is managed by another Entity that is a Depository Institution, a Custodial Institution, a Specified Insurance Company, or the first type of Investment Entity.

“Investment Entity located in a Non-Participating Jurisdiction and managed by another Financial Institution”

The term “Investment Entity located in a Non-Participating Jurisdiction and managed by another Financial Institution” means any Entity whose gross income mainly comes from investing, reinvesting or trading in Financial Assets. It applies if (i) a Financial Institution manages the Entity and (ii) the Entity isn’t a Participating Jurisdiction Financial Institution.

“Investment Entity managed by another Financial Institution”

An Entity is “managed by” another Entity if the managing Entity performs, either directly or through another service provider on behalf of the managed Entity, any of the activities or operations described in clause (i) above in the definition of ‘Investment Entity’.

An Entity only manages another Entity if it has discretionary authority to manage the other Entity’s assets (either in whole or part). Where an Entity is managed by a mix of Financial Institutions, NFEs or individuals, the Entity is considered to be managed by another Entity that is a Depository Institution, a Custodial Institution, a Specified Insurance Company, or the first type of Investment Entity, if any of the managing Entities is such another Entity.

“NFE”

An “NFE” is any Entity that isn’t a Financial Institution.

“Non-Reporting Financial Institution”

A “Non-Reporting Financial Institution” means any Financial Institution that’s:

- A Governmental Entity, International Organisation or Central Bank, other than with respect to a payment that is derived from an obligation held in connection with a commercial financial activity of a type engaged in by a Specified Insurance Company, Custodial Institution, or Depository Institution;
- A Broad Participation Retirement Fund; a Narrow Participation Retirement Fund; a Pension Fund of a Governmental Entity, International Organisation or Central Bank; or a Qualified Credit Card Issuer;
- An Exempt Collective Investment Vehicle; or
- A Trustee-Documented Trust: a trust whose trustee is a Reporting Financial Institution and reports all the necessary information about the trust's Reportable Accounts;
- Any other Entity that a country defines as a Non-Reporting Financial Institution in its domestic law.

“Participating Jurisdiction”

A “Participating Jurisdiction” means a jurisdiction that has an agreement in place for how it will provide the information set out in the CRS.

“Participating Jurisdiction Financial Institution”

The term “Participating Jurisdiction Financial Institution” means (i) any Financial Institution that is tax resident in a Participating Jurisdiction, but excludes any branch of that Financial Institution that is located outside of that jurisdiction, and (ii) any branch of a Financial Institution that is not tax resident in a Participating Jurisdiction, if that branch is located in such Participating Jurisdiction.

“Passive Income”

To determine what the CRS means by “passive income”, you’ll need to refer to your jurisdiction’s particular rules. Generally, passive income would include the portion of gross income that consists of:

a) dividends;
b) interest;
c) income equivalent to interest;
d) rents and royalties, other than rents and royalties derived in the course of carrying out active business, at least in part by employees of the NFE;
e) annuities;
f) the excess of gains over losses from the sale or exchange of Financial Assets that gives rise to the passive income we described earlier;
g) the excess of gains over losses from transactions (including futures, forwards, options, and similar transactions) in any Financial Assets;
h) the excess of foreign currency gains over foreign currency losses;
i) net income from swaps; or
j) amounts received under cash value insurance contracts.

However, in the case of a NFE that regularly acts as a dealer in Financial Assets, passive income will not include any income from any transaction a dealer might enter into in the ordinary course of their business.

“Passive NFE”

Under the CRS, a “Passive NFE” means any: (i) NFE that isn’t an Active NFE; and (ii) Investment Entity located in a Non-Participating Jurisdiction and managed by another Financial Institution.

“Related Entity”

An Entity is a “Related Entity” of another Entity if either Entity controls the other or if the two Entities are under common control. For this purpose, control includes owning (directly or indirectly) more than 50% of the vote and value in an Entity.

“Reportable Account”

The term “Reportable Account” means an account held by one or more Reportable Persons, or by a Passive NFE with one or more Controlling Persons that is a Reportable Person.

“Reportable Jurisdiction”

A Reportable Jurisdiction is a jurisdiction that has an obligation in place to provide financial account information.

“Reportable Jurisdiction Person”

A Reportable Jurisdiction Person is an Entity that is tax resident in a Reportable Jurisdiction(s) under the tax laws of such jurisdiction(s) by reference to local laws in the country where the Entity is established, incorporated or managed. An Entity such as a partnership, limited liability partnership or similar legal arrangement that has no residence for tax purposes shall be treated as resident in the jurisdiction in which its place of effective management is situated. As such if an Entity certifies that it has no residence for tax purposes it should complete the form stating the address of its principal office.

Dual resident Entities may rely on the tiebreaker rules contained in tax conventions (if applicable) to determine their residence for tax purposes.

“Reportable Person”

A “Reportable Person” is defined as a “Reportable Jurisdiction Person”, other than:

- A corporation whose stock is regularly traded on one or more established securities markets;
- Any corporation that’s a Related Entity of a corporation described in clause (i);
- A Governmental Entity;
- An International Organisation;
- A Central Bank;
- A Financial Institution (except for an Investment Entity described in Sub Paragraph A (6) b) of the CRS that isn’t a Participating Jurisdiction Financial Institution. The CRS considers these Investment Entities to be Passive NFEs.)

“Resident for tax purposes”

Generally, an Entity will be resident for tax purposes in a jurisdiction if, under the laws of that jurisdiction (including tax conventions), it pays or should be paying tax therein by reason of domicile, residence, place of management or incorporation, or any other criterion of a similar nature, and not only from sources in that jurisdiction. Dual resident Entities may rely on the tiebreaker rules contained in tax conventions (if applicable) to solve cases of double residence for determining their residence for tax purposes. An Entity such as a partnership, limited liability partnership or similar legal arrangement that has no residence for tax purposes shall be treated as resident in the jurisdiction in which its place of effective management is situated. A trust is treated as resident where one or more of its trustees is resident. For additional information on tax residence, please talk to your tax adviser or see the following link: http://www.oecd.org/tax/exchange-of-tax-information/implementation-handbook-standard-for-automatic-exchange-of-financial-account-information-in-tax-matters.htm

“Specified Insurance Company”

The term “Specified Insurance Company” means any Entity that’s an insurance company (or the holding company of an insurance company) that issues or has to make payments with respect to, a cash value insurance contract or an annuity contract.

“TIN” (including “functional equivalent”)

The term “TIN” means Taxpayer Identification Number (or, where there’s no TIN, a functional equivalent). A TIN is a unique combination of letters or numbers that a jurisdiction assigns to an individual or an Entity to identify them for the purpose of administering the jurisdiction’s tax laws. You can find further details of acceptable TINs here: https://search.oecd.org/tax/automatic-exchange/tinsandtaxresidency/taxidentificationnumberstins/

Some jurisdictions don’t issue a TIN. However, these jurisdictions often use another high integrity number with an equivalent level of identification (a “functional equivalent”). Examples of that type of number include, for Entities, a Business or company registration code/number.
